strange to relate, not in each other this A meeting of the presidents and managers of all the Western Trunk lines has been called for Tuesday next, when a big effort will be made to restore rates everywhere throughout the West. It is stated that the presidents are willing to concede that the Northwest-Union Pacific alliance is all right, and as this was the great stumbling block the way is clear for an early settlement. Manager Chappell, of the Alton, is on record as saving that his road is willing and ready to advance all kinds of rates if its competitors will live up to their word. Deacon White proved a thorn in the side of the bears.
